Also, laxatives contribute to the normalization of digestion and the removal of harmful substances from the intestines. Laxative in dentistry Weakness of tooth enamel is the most common disease in all age groups of a person. The reason for this is simple: improper oral hygiene, bringing teeth into a healthy state with the help of whitening and other procedures, unqualified and excessive nutrition, after which a large amount of food debris, harmful bacteria, and plaque remain in the oral cavity. Weak immunity and cancer immunodeficiencyâ€, according to official medical statistics, today almost 80% of the worldâ€s population has it, and every second of the adult population of the planet starts taking medication not as prescribed by a doctor, but only because of the desire to overcome an unpleasant symptom of the disease or discomfort from its manifestations. Constant prevention weakening the body and the use of other preventive measures no longer have an effect. This is due to the fact that the human body cannot counteract the virus or bacteria that causes the disease. Therefore, strong immunity is necessary so that the body can fight the disease on its own and does not think about helping doctors. Patients who are not able to provide their body with the proper level of resistance, in order to eliminate the disease, need to use potent drugs. Sweet, high-calorie sweets can also be harmful. Teeth are a structure made of enamel, dentin and some other structures. When eating sweet foods, tartar appears on the teeth. In addition, mucous diseases of the gums may be noted. Therefore, the weakening of teeth and caries, as many people know, can be facilitated by eating sweet, high-calorie, carbohydrate-rich foods, which include not only sweets, buns, cakes and pastries, but also juices in tetra packs, canned products, and so on. Naturally, all of these foods are very high in calories, so replacing them with more healthy and healthy ones is a completely justified way to improve the body. Diet Adjustment for Weight Loss console console, which at that time was codenamed Evo C4. The new model was named Logitec EvoC4 for Android, without waiting for the official presentation. If all goes according to plan, the Evo will be on sale in a few months. The engine has been updated to the Generic C version. As before, the set-top box is equipped with a standard set of functions. So, using the Start Screen panel, you can start playing music or video (K-Lite Mega). There is also compatibility with the famous WD TV Live media player. At the same time, from now on, all applications for Android GoStream can only be run on a set-top box. The main difference between the new console and its predecessor is that it supports analogue analogue and digital analogue DVB-T2 and DVB-C television. At the moment, this is one of the latest developments of Logiteca, so, most likely, the console will appear on sale in the very near future. A portable WDTV Live player, along with a set-top box, is included with the Logitec Evo. It is a turnkey solution for wireless access to streaming and Internet broadcasting channels. It is possible to play content from an external USB drive and the YouTube site. There is also support for popular applications such as Skype, Internet Explorer, Windows Media Player, Winamp, etc. The connection is via Satellite Connect or via Wi-Fi. The channel is produced in English. It is worth noting the presence of a proprietary console console interface. The operating system is Android 5.0 Lollipop. Available with RC1. Despite the fact that all the key elements of the console have already been updated, the manufacturer is in no hurry to make changes and announce them to the public. Most likely, those users who are waiting for a ready-made update over the air will have to wait until next year. It is planned to go on sale at the end of 2019 at a price of $150. You can also choose a version with a minimum delivery - without a digital TV receiver. Tell your friends and family about our store
