Q: Codeigniter: query getting all data with condition I am new to Codeigniter. In my codeigniter app all things are happening as I want. But one thing is not showing the expected output. My controller code is : `$data['users'] = $this->users_model->get_all_users(); $this->load->view('users',$data);` I have a model called users_model. This is my model code: `function get_all_users() { $this->db->select('*'); $this->db->from('tbl_user'); $this->db->order_by('user_name'); $this->db->where('inactive', 'false'); $this->db->limit(10); $query = $this->db->get();`

A Flexible and Powerful Web Service Framework Business Partnership for a Home Business Here are some tips on creating a profitable home-based business. Offer your skills and expertise. Put them on display. Offer to perform a service or sell a product. Does your wife or children give you a hard time about your calling home and doing your own thing? Make it a source of income. Here are some basic questions to consider when starting a home-based business. How many hours a day will you work? How many hours will you sleep? Will you be home when the kids get home from school or could you arrange to work out of a satellite office? Will you be serving your local market? Will you be working only for yourself or for others as well? Will you have any outside obligations? Can you delegate them? Will you use a home office or do some of your work from home? Will you manage your time well? Will you make time for other activities that would be meaningful to you, such as volunteering? If you will be in business for yourself, think about how you will manage your time. If you will be working for others, the same questions apply. What will be your entry level position? What level will you move up to? Think about your income potential in the long run. The Internet is a source of great help in starting a home-based business. You can buy books on this topic or you can search the Internet for information. Search on Google. You may need to do some research in order to make a home-based business work. Write down a list of your findings. These are your assets. Online Catalogs and search engines can do a great deal for a home-based business. Use them. There are many issues in the medical field. There are different degrees of training needed to be a medical doctor. Others have many different degrees of training to be a doctor. If you have a great skill, you can sell it in a home based business. If you don't have the skill, you can offer a service. For example, you can offer to be a massage therapist. Another possibility would be to offer to clean a house or do some light housework. Whatever you do, choose a service you can do and advertise it on the Internet or in a local paper. Don't allow yourself to be paid in cash. Make sure you enter the pay as you go method on your paper work.
