Create eStoryMaker User Guide (PDF) It's a relatively new kind of app, which some call a "design application", and others a "creation tool". This is a specialized software, which is designed to bring out your creative abilities to make various things, including posters, presentations, and more. You can get loads of templates from the internet, or design your own. The one thing that stands out about eStoryMaker, however, is that it doesn't allow editing anything or even removing an item that's already been placed. It's not like Adobe Photoshop, for example. Instead, it's mostly a tool to create slideshows for various purposes. Design is therefore based on text, so you can place words, sentences, or even paragraphs, depending on the design you need. Clipping art, or even photos, is allowed as well. There are some other limitations, though. You can only create a slideshow with a maximum of 2 pages. You can, however, create a slideshow with pictures as well. In order to do this, you need to drag pictures from the "templates" folder onto the page. You will, therefore, see a small star icon in the top right corner, allowing you to drag them into the page. The interface lets you decide if you want to start with an empty page or a slide. You can, of course, use either one. You can also decide whether you want to use a slideshow, or simply a story-driven creation. There's also the option of adding photos in a slideshow, and if you want to, you can even add videos. You don't need to bother about selecting the right kind of template, because all you need to do is add pictures to the slide, and choose among the various views and effects you can use. The special mode allows you to move pictures around, or even change
