After a couple months of developing Paunch 2, I decided to make a Bob Expansion Pack, because I know that many fans like it. Features : - 8 new colors and 3 different patterns. - 4 new uniforms (Durham with or without stripes). - 4 new cloths (Durham with or without stripes, Green, Kyto and Tatsu). - 8 new animations. - All the new animations have been added to the Cleanup, Cleanup2 and Cleanup3 systems. - 3 new particles. - 2 new cloth sounds. - 1 new UI design. - 2 new patterns. - The order of these is the same as the Bob Expansion Pack. - 2 new colors and patterns are only for MAME Retro. - 2 new costumes and 3 new headgears can be purchased for MAME Retro or MAME Standard. Where To Get This Content : Well, I'll let you download it by yourself. If you need more information, just call me : 0178-20-96-96 Additional Information: You can start using Bob right away, at the first time you start Paunch. I thought that all of you waiting for this Expansion Pack would want to start Bob without any delay, so I have decissioned to make a very fast Pack. Here is another topic about the game Paunch 2 : General Information

Special thanks to: - Twodog for his work on the new textures, pattern and colors. - Peter for his work on the new animations. - All the people that make MAME Retro possible - All those who made the original Paunch - All those who supported Paunch's release (Thanks for the use of the Frostbite Engine : James Wallis)Norman Clyde Norman Clyde is a Canadian politician, who represented the electoral district of Algoma South in the Legislative Assembly of Ontario from 1995 to 2003. He served as Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations in the government of Mike Harris in 1999. The son of Rev. Maurice Clyde, he was born in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario. He married Janice Ross and has three children. He was a long-time president of the local Lions Club. Clyde was also an artist, and painted murals at the Algoma Place Mall. Clyde first ran for the provincial legislature in the 1975 election, but lost to George Berzins in the guide Want to play as a summoner hero? Well, lucky for you, I'm a Summoner Hero devotee myself, so I'll take you through the steps involved in playing as a summoner hero hero (haha, cheesy!). Pre-requisites You'll need to own Summoner Hero, the Dungeon Defenders DLC and an Oculus Rift DK2, since the gesture support you get from playing with the Rift is something that will work for only the Rift app, and won't work for a monitor-only setup. You'll also need to be level 10. This guide will assume that you've already reached that level as it's designed to help you hit level 10 faster, but you'll probably find some of the basic combat maneuvers easier for lower level characters. Don't forget! Both Oculus Desktop Edition and Oculus Home Edition are required. Before starting, though, I want to remind you of the three things we recommend you should keep in mind while playing: Practice Melee It's entirely possible that you'll get better at actually hitting your button haphazardly. Learn to aim your spells and abilities, and when you really feel confident in your aim you can even toss out some clanged hooks for extra damage. To practice melee, just switch off the Rift completely and aim and throw your melee attacks. Practice Battle Rush The Battle Rush function is completely useless as a DPS hero, but it can be quite useful during said role changes. As a summoner hero, use Battle Rush to boost yourself into a dash mode quickly, to get into position to deal with your enemies. Practice Your Barrier Charges Barrier is great at taking out minions and for absorbing their damage, but it's also a great way to save your allies. Learn to save allies with the right timing by mastering the abilities of a summoner hero. Getting up to speed Barrier of Despair At level 10, you can begin saving your allies behind a barrier of despair. You won't be able to see it however, as the barrier pops up behind your character. You'll be able to use your barrier charge while in this ability, so use it to bolster your own health by charging and then using the button on your touch controller to pop

Inspired by an insight about the space between people, we created a game where your ship is the trash in space. Stuck inside a cubicle, you can look out the window only to see a whole galaxy of garbage. Steer yourself between trash to collect junk and deliver it to the disposal unit. No two games are the same, so try lots of different route patterns to get the most points. Scores keep track of how many points you got, how many you delivered, and how dangerous the junk was. There are hazards galore: the trash creates lots of hazardous trash. Each hazard has a unique, mechanical way of catching you. Innovative game mechanic: the trash cannot be captured until you slow it down; the hazards have their own direction to fire at you. Fire the repulsor ray at the garbage to slow it down. Fire the magnetic ray at the garbage to repel it. Fire the debris cannon at the garbage to destroy it. Fire the repulsor ray at the hazard to slow it down. Fire the magnetic ray at the hazard to repel it. Fire the debris cannon at the hazard to destroy it. Check the lanes in front of your ship for new hazards. If you get hit, you lose a life, and no more hazards will fire at you. The clock is ticking, and it's time to start earning points! Controls: WASD + Arrow Keys: Move the ship. Space: decelerate and accelerate. Shift + Arrow Keys: Toggle magnetization. S: Take a shot, pay for it now. R: Restart the game, you only get one life. Rescue: an alien ship will come and save you!
