K9 Cop was killed Monday night, after he was shot in the chest while hunting deer in a wooded area in Jonesboro. Officer Jeff Cash with the Jonesboro Police Department told the Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The child was hit by a bullet from a hunting rifle belonging to the 12-year-old boy, Cash said. Police didn't identify the boy, but other outlets reported that he is the child's uncle, who is also under investigation. Police did not immediately release further details, citing the investigation. Cash said the rifle is not registered to the boy and was not taken away from him by anyone. The K9 Cop was trained to aid officers in dangerous situations, and was put down on the boy's property, Cash said.
