Q: How to convert Comma separated String to CSV DataSet in .NET I am using WindowsForm App and I am facing issues in creating a Dataset. I am using below code to create data table DataTable

CreateTable() { DataTable DT = new DataTable(); DT.TableName =
"tbl_VizicomData"+YearDummy;
DT.Columns.Add("CustomerNum");
DT.Columns.Add("CustomerName");
DT.Columns.Add("IssueDate");
DT.Columns.Add("ActionedBy");
DT.Columns.Add("Note"); return DT; }

In the above code, I am adding columns dynamically, so I am using DT.TableName instead of setting columns statically. Now, I have a comma separated string which is returned in the JSON response from our web api, so in that response, i have five columns in each row, but my datatable are getting only three columns in each row. Here is my String: " CustomerName,CustomerNumber,Note,Issue Date,ActionedBy" I can't figure out how to write the right join between two tables. Can anyone please give me the solution. A: Here is the solution for your requirement. First, you should make the schema of your string list as below. var schema = stringList.Schema.Split(','); Then, make your DataTable the schema as below and fullfill row. (Please note that, the first column in schema is also the column name in DataTable object.) var dataSet = new DataSet(); var rowCollection = schema.Select(data => new { CustomerNum = data,

```

Features Key:

A Vast World Full of Excitement Travel freely throughout the Lands Between and visit beautiful locations such as the Land of Vestiges and other regions.

Create your Own Character Develop your character entirely according to your play style, such as increasing your muscle strength to become a strong warrior. You can freely combine the weapons, armor, and magic that you equip.

An Epic Drama Born from a Myth A multilayered story with multiple parallel directions, which was written for you by an untold number of writers, and told in fragments. A multilayered story in which the various thoughts of the characters intersect in the Lands Between.
