Typically, a free Creative Cloud account allows you to download software, work offline on a Mac or PC, and apply changes while working with your design files directly on Â . People being mean to you online is pretty common. But some really awful people have turned words into something truly vile and disgusting, using them to bully people or make hate crimes. Often times these people go unnoticed because they're not as known, or as well-known, as other hateful trolls. But if we're going to ever get to the bottom of the problem of online abuse, we've got to educate ourselves about these people, and name them and shame them for their actions. Reddit user hecklecity has compiled a massive list of some of the worst trolls on Reddit. Hecklecity includes more than 300 examples, broken down into 22 different categories. Hecklecity has a few rough guidelines on what qualifies as a troll: "A troll is someone who posts something deliberately in order to further their own agenda (such as hatred towards a demographic of a certain person or a rhetorical attack against another user) and who could care less about
