Religious group makes deadline with gift to SCBC Pat McCafferty, (right) on Jan. 24, opened the Gift of Life Society's 2013 Diamond Ball at York River Country Club. The fundraising ball featured entertainment and was sponsored by the Lexington-Blue Grass Symphony Orchestra. Lexington Herald-Leader By JOHN FLESHERL January 24, 2013 ROADPORT, S.C. (AP) — When a Lexington-based Catholic hospice organization, the Gift of Life Society, last week made its deadline for a fundraising gift, organizers said the amount didn't matter. They said they are working with a local donor to assist the hospice with its goal of raising $200,000 to pay for the care of terminally ill and disabled patients at SCBC. The hospice provides free inpatient care at 10 locations in South Carolina. As a result of the $50,000-plus donation, the Gift of Life Society's annual Diamond Ball will be held at the York River Country Club in Lexington on March 7. It's a fundraiser that has raised thousands of dollars for the hospice in recent years. Pat McCafferty of Lexington said the hospice has provided wonderful services to terminally ill and disabled people in the community that wants to do something that's wonderful for others," said McCafferty, who is senior director of client services and outreach for the Gift of Life Society. "We've been blessed to be able to grow in the last eight years to where we are now, but we're still very much in need." One of the hospice's founder and president, Pat Casey, died in November after a lifetime of service to the institution. He was 53. Casey's son, Don Casey, said his father's spirit will remain with the organization. "He would want us to do
