Star Realms Hardware Engineers is a 4 part campaign of new ships, new cards, new armies and new missions. Your commanders will find themselves in a galaxy populated by the Blob, Trade Federation, Machine Cult and Star Empire. They will rise to power, acquiring the resources of these four Galaxies and will then be forced to decide on how their fellow generals will be allowed to live. What's in a war for eternity? The Hardware Engineers Expansion is a skirmish, 3-player campaign: One player takes the role of the human High Commander, another represents The Blob, and another represents the Trade Federation or the Machine Cult or the Star Empire. Your mission is to defeat the high commanders of the other two factions and thus gain control of the four civilizations, to then build three hardware ships and 15 computer technology cards, and finally to conquer the galaxy by achieving victory in each of the three missions available in the campaign. Hardware Engineers is designed for a minimum of three players. Each player will need to team up with a second opponent. Star Realms United is a new mission-based skirmish game that takes a look at the battles of the future, and man's drive to control and plunder the stars. Star Realms United includes: - eight new faction pairs, including new cards, decks, and armies. - three new missions for each faction pair - three-player skirmish game using up to four players, with a customisable player screen - highly customisable and easy to learn, Star Realms United is still balanced for multiplayer and expansion games - five special expansions What's Included: - Three-player Multiplayer Game - Star Realms United (3 players) - Additional faction pair - Machine Cult / Star Empire - 10 new Starships and their support ships, including new Mechanical Technologie - 15 new Computer Technology cards that you can use to battle your opponents - 8 new campaign missions, including 6 new mission cards and 4 new missions for each faction - New faction pair - Blob / Trade Federation - 5 new faction pair missions - 3 new multiplayer battles of up to five players with customisable player screens - New campaign module with a special campaign chapter - 32 faction pair cards - High resolution images - Game rules and game videos - High quality sound effects - A comprehensive rulebook including specific details on all game mechanics - A high quality five-sided dice - A hexagonally-shaped mapboard and customisable custom

OPUS: The Day We Found Earth is a stellar saga set on a distant planet... OPUS is a science fiction game about exploration, discovery and life. Based in the Andromeda Galaxy, a remote little planet is the next destination for our protagonist, Zuk. She is a crewmember of the Starship Mohnton, leading the first colony ship to the edge of the galaxy, together with her comrade Maciek. The players embark on a journey across the universe towards a planet that came to life only a few thousand years ago. Like the crew members of the OPUS, the Planet Mohnton will never be the same, after being swallowed by a black hole and becoming terraformed. The gameplay of OPUS consists of three parts: exploration, discovery and life. The player's ship travels through deep space with a view to explore the alien environment and collect resources for life support and research. Ships and landing craft are gradually tracked to the right point of origin and you have to deal with the consequences of bad decisions. The game invites the players to enjoy the journey by making difficult decisions and taking in consideration the consequences of their actions. An RPG system based on Karma, marks and experience are in place to allow the players to become more experienced and gain new skills. The soundtrack of OPUS: The Day We Found Earth composed by Felipe Plaza and Jorge Fernando Pérez. In it we can find 21 full pieces in MP3 format. With the music you also travel through the universe. Key Features: A stellar saga set on a distant planet... Life on Mohnton is strange. How is it possible that we have come to life so quickly? And what does it mean to be intelligent? These questions are destined to lead our protagonist, Zuk, to one of the most profound discoveries of our history. Gravity and weight are absent! We have been born without a pull, without any kind of mutual attraction or repulsion. We are suspended in the third dimension without reference to the weights of the planets, stars or objects. A web of technology We communicate without vocal cords, without windows, or bars. We weave our own technology and our interstellar network that makes us contact each other in different ways. A battle for survival The planet's surface is uneven, with deep craters. Not much remains of the ancient life that once inhabited this place. c9d1549cdd

What's new:

WITH ALL STANDARDS TO KEEP THE FUN! It is 2019 and after the government closing of the school gates, sports grounds and well as the closing of the shops and everything you can do on a Saturday. Families are forced to spend all of their time at home where Mr. and Mrs. Killjoy are the only ones home. As the day goes by Mr. Killjoy eventually makes an announcement. "The moment you have all been waiting for. Welcome to the horror!" Mr. Killjoy announced to the room. A few minutes later a guy appeared from the door behind the large screen. "This is what you pay to see. This is a premium show and if you are not satisfied with what you see, pay up front of you leave." The narrator said to the audience. The right half of the screen was blacked out, showing nothing. "Please hand over your chips and we will start on time." The room was completely dark except for the thin screen in the middle. After a few seconds a live video was transmitted and the figures appearing onscreen was enormous. The first figure is an extremely fat guy. His body looked like it would break apart. His face was that of a regular guy, but it still felt as if it was also covered in dirt. His eyes were small and didn't seem real. He was bent over with his hands to his knees. Next is a lady who looks more like a man. He had ripped pants, a torn shirt, and this new style hair. It was like shoulder length hair that looked like it was just done cutting it. The only thing keeping it out of a complete mess was this new style hair. He was now uncurling his body upwards trying to stand up straight. But as he did, he seemed to break in half. The bottom half was still covered in dirt, but now his jeans looked ripped. His stomach now seemed all jacked in the right places and his face had changed very little. He had a giant grin and an eye in his forehead, a little ice. His legs got smaller and smaller until there wasn't even any middle. After his had been sucked through the screen came this guy. He looked more like a baby, but he had a sort of hairy and dirty face. His face was that of a baby but he didn't have hair. His mouth was slightly open, and he was breathing heavily. He was maybe eleven or so. "Number two
