

I have a hard time to realize which code is needed. Could you give me a hint? $ cat /etc/odbcinst.ini addition to points made in the previous answer, to avoid confusion, you could add a variable at the top of your python script and initialize it to None at the top of the script as shown below: #!

/usr/bin/env python import cv2 import datetime from PIL import Image image = Image.open("/tmp/pass.png") #Initialize the variable to an empty list letters = [] #Initialize all other variables def avilen(image): global letters letters.append("") def word(image, letters): global letters letter = image[50,52] letters.append(letter) def background(image): global letters, image row = image.shape[1] col = image.shape[0] for i in range(col): for j in range(row): if letters[j] in image:
image[i, j] = 0 return image.copy() def letter_recognition(word, letter): print (word) return letters[0] == letter while True: image = cv2. 6d1f23a050
