EXECUTE IMMEDIATE 'DBMS_CLIENT.CREATE_CONNECTION' USING 'con', 'password', 'DATABASE', 'DATA_SOURCE'; EXECUTE IMMEDIATE 'DBMS_CLIENT.CONNECT' USING 'con', 'schemaname', 'dsn', 'database', 'data_source', 'fmt_type'; EXECUTE IMMEDIATE 'DBMS_UTILITY'. Choose the installation type that is appropriate for your environment. If you are using Oracle Database 10g Release 2 (10.2) client software, there is no difference between the Database and Client installation types. The version in the path should match the version specified in the Oracle Database control file. If you installed a component from the Oracle Database 10g Release 2 (10.2) software download after Oracle Database 11g Release 1 (11.1), then you must install any components using the same Oracle home directory as the installed Oracle Database 10g Release 2 (10.2) components. The Oracle client software is installed in the custom Oracle Database Client directory by default, and it will also be used as the Oracle home directory. If you want to customize the installation location, set the Oracle Database Client directory property in the Oracle Database dialog. You can also set Oracle Database Client directory in the DBC file, if you already have the Oracle client software installed in the default location. the oracle database client software is available on the oracle technology network (otn) web site. in most cases, you use the graphical user interface (gui) provided by oracle universal installer to install the client. you can also use oracle universal installer to complete silent-mode installations using response files, without using the gui.

Start Oracle Enterprise Manager and select Oracle Wallet, then select Create New. If you don't have a Wallet, you can get an Oracle Wallet by selecting Oracle Wallet > Add Wallet. To connect to an Oracle Wallet, select Select Database Wallet and then use one of these entries: Data Miner Query is not working in the Power BI Desktop Query Editor after you open or create a new query. Data Miner Query should work in Power BI Desktop, but if it does not, check the following items: Data Miner Query is installed with a 32-bit version of the Oracle ODBC driver. A 32-bit ODBC driver for Microsoft SQL Server is installed. For example, the SQL Server OLEDB driver is installed by default, which means you must uninstall this driver in order to use the Microsoft ODBC Driver. To use query permissions in Power BI Desktop, you must be able to connect to your database. These errors occur if you connect to an Oracle database using 32-bit ODAC and you have 64-bit ODAC installed, or if you connect to an Oracle database using 64-bit ODAC and you have 32-bit ODAC installed. For more information, see Make sure that 32-bit ODAC is installed. To use data loader for SQL Server datasets, you need a 32-bit ODAC client for the data loader. This error message appears if you install a 64-bit version of ODAC and then install the 32-bit data loader. Sometimes the connection to an Oracle database can be established, but a view or query returns only those rows for which the database server returned a row count of 0. For example, if the database server said that there were some records, but the rows retrieved by the query were 0, the result of the query contains all the rows, but rows for which the server returned a row count of 0 are not included in the result. For more information, see Row Counts in the Oracle documentation. Sec8ef588b
