
Single Player Project - DayZ AI Server Pack For LAN Game Hack

--DayZ Training Missions. Generic Dayz start, load screen and shooting. You can change the difficulty by changing the difficulty value in the 'DayZ.ini'. There is also an Advanced Dayz that is a true test of the player's skill. Needs more work for basic survival, but getting a game like vanilla Dayz is pretty easy. The 'Aftermath' or 'Post Dayz' scenes are also in the preview. Easy to add your own, and customizable.

--Dynamic dayz when you log in, based off where you are physically. If you're in a forest you go to the forest, if you're in a swamp you go to the swamp. It's similar to a plugin, but dynamic, and intended for use on multiplayer servers. Needs more work to limit it to the current map areas, but it's a work in progress.

--Potentially for later: New Dayz Game and Dayz Random Map generation. The mod has been scripted to have access to the Dayz 2.0 'entities' which have code to 'seed' new Dayz maps and Dayz game for players, but this could allow players to see what the map is, and take advantage. In testing, it is very, very, very, slow. Some people have reported many vanilla-like 'noise' in the game with this without even having Dayz Control Center installed, though how to resolve that problem is unclear at this time. The mod itself has no guarantees as to when it will be completed, but a lot of people use, and will use, it, and it's very useful if you want or need to get a Dayz server up and running for LAN play.

--Random spawns for LAN players, based on certain variables such as 'kill' or 'nuke' level, pick a map, etc. One of the first items I would like to work on for this is a working spawn limit, for when the Dayz AI finally kicks in and throws players on to the servers it is using. If you don't know where you are, how will you know where you will want to go. It's an old problem with multiplayer games, not Dayz exactly, but to achieve its full 'Dayz' potential with the AI mod, this 'feature' needs to be ironed out.

the mission module
detects the environment

(hosted or single player), and plays the appropriate sound. if you are using a dedicated server, the module also triggers the dedicated server to start and stop the game. once the game is started, the city detection module detects other players' games on the host lan, using either mzlan-zmc to detect mzlan games, or the game's own network packet detection to detect the lan games. a simple concept the missions module detects the location of the player and generates missions to achieve a defined goal.

for instance, a player (or a dedicated server) could have the mission to "survive", which could be done by planting a farm, killing zombies with a hunting bow, finding a farm house, etc. the module provides the user with a menu of available missions and will automatically detect which mission goal can be achieved. for instance, if the player detects he is in a zombie infested city and needs to plant a farm, he would not be able to achieve a mission goal of "survive". massive replayability the map can be freely configured with the uac mission planner. four "missions goals" are predefined : survival, survival and farming, scavenge and farming, rest. quality of life improvements the mission module also includes several other features : mission names mission names can be changed to suit the survivors needs. the mission module offers several text fields on the mission menu, which can be customized.
