They support their colleagues by providing workshops on teaching ESL, helping them develop curricula for their classes, and acting as advisors on curriculum. They support other teachers through presentations and presentations and they work closely with the administrative staff. The Teachers of English as a Second Language (TESL) program at UNCC, an extension of the Center for Educational Transformation and the Center for Teacher and School Leadership (CTSL) was created by a vote of the Board of Trustees on January 10, 2008, to promote the teaching of English as a second language (ESL) and to provide professional development opportunities for those interested in the field. The TESL program of the Center for Educational Transformation and the Center for Teacher and School Leadership (CTSL) at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte (UNCC) is a two year program that prepares native speakers of English to teach ESL. The program is designed to assist students in developing critical thinking skills and to assist in the adoption of an academic mindset. The two year program consists of two semesters of on-site instruction and three weeks of field studies. Students may enroll in the fall and spring semesters. The purpose of the program is to provide: (1) a foundation in ESL pedagogy for beginning ESL teachers; (2) ongoing in-service professional development for all teaching staff; (3) assistance for the development of instructional strategies for the classroom; and (4) field studies to allow for both observation and practice in the classroom. The program provides a two semester of intense and comprehensive on-site instruction that provides the foundation for the ESL classroom, with on-going opportunities to further develop teaching practice. The courses meet approximately 9 hours of University Requirements and each course requires two 100-minute in-service classes. Each semester, participants will also be assigned to one of the following outside agencies for field studies: * Virginia State Board of Education. (03) 916-4000 * Virginia Department of Education. (3) 855-3283 * Virginia Department of Criminal Justice Services. (3) 855-4321 * Virginia Department of Labor. (3) 855-3231 * Virginia Department of Mental Health.
