neroQ: Linq To SQL - Using Contains I'm using a Linq to SQL database and I need to do a search to only return items where the name contains the input from a form. I've used this in the past with MYSQL databases and it's worked. I've tried this in C# with no luck, but I know it's possible.
Here's what I've tried: sql = "SELECT *
FROM [files] WHERE name Like @name" cmd = _db.GetDbConnection() cmd.Query(_db, sql, name); The data is bound to a form element and I've tried a few things. Thanks for any help. A: Have you tried using "string.Contains"? string sql = "SELECT * FROM [files] WHERE name Like @name";

```
_db.GetDbConnection().CreateCommand()
.CommandText = sql.Parameters
.Add("@name", System.Data.Linq.SqlClient.SqlDbType.NVarChar).Value = "whatever"; _db.GetDbConnection().Open(); using (var reader = cmd.ExecuteReader()) { while (reader.Read()) { ... } } Edit: If you use entity framework like you said in comments, you have a lot of easier way to perform searches: var results = context.Files f988f36e3a
